(Suranaree J. Sci. Technol. : SJST)

AIMS AND SCOPE

- The journal aims to provide a medium for the dissemination of advances in engineering, science, agricultural technology, medicine and public health, and related technology. All contributions that have not been published in other journals, reports, proceedings or other types of publications are welcomed. Contributions are accepted only in English and may be research papers, short communications, or review articles
- Continuing efforts have been made by the editorial board members to maintain the high quality of the journal by single-blind peer-review in careful and fair manner. A special attention has been focused therefore on the novelty and readers' benefit together with practical applicability if necessary. All the accepted manuscripts are edited by a specialist who is a native and professionally-educated English speaker.

Project Impact

- Journal Quartile of the 48 Thai Journals is increasing over time.
- Number of Citations overall in 2023 is increasing, which will positively impact the 2023 CiteScore, the Journal Quartile and the FWCI.
- Number of Citing countries of each journal are increasing, suggesting that research papers from Thailand have higher quality and more visibility.
